Assistant Lecturer in English

The Role

New College of the Humanities wishes to appoint several full-time, fixed-term, Assistant Lecturers in English.

The role is to hold classes and office hours, and do marking, accompaniment on tours, and commensurate administrative duties, under the guidance and with the support of the course leader. The teaching is for the undergraduate course 'Cultures of London', which surveys the cultural history of London from its early history to the present, with a particular concentration on literature since the sixteenth century. This course is being delivered to students visiting from Northeastern University (Boston, USA).

The ideal candidate will have experience of teaching English to undergraduates, and will be happy to work as part of a small, committed, team.

The role [BOTH SEMESTERS ONLY] is fixed-term in the first instance, with the possibility of extension to permanency on satisfactory completion of a year's probation.

Application Process

Applications should be made via this link by midnight, on Sunday, 31st March 2019.

Please reference your application "ALCL0319". Participation in the equal opportunities section is encouraged, but voluntary.
