

Tutor in Political Theory

Job Description

POSITION OVERVIEW

Location	:	Bloomsbury, London
Term	:	Part-time; fixed-term (sessional)
Hours	:	Minimum 110 hours
Salary	:	Fixed-fee, subject to hours
Start	:	1 st October 2019
Application Deadline	:	Midnight, 2 nd July 2019

The Role

New College of the Humanities wishes to appoint a tutor to support the course leaders for the delivery of one-to-one back-up tutorials and seminar on two courses – either Modern Political Thought (L4) and Old Powers, New Powers, Imperialism, Colonialism and the Modern State (L5) or Modern Political Thought (L4) and Political Ideologies (L5) with Societies in Transition (L5) in the Faculty of Politics & International Relations with effect from 1st October. The successful candidate will work under the guidance, and with the support, of the course leaders / lecturers.

We welcome applications from political scientists with research specialisms in the history of political thought from Machiavelli to Marx, political theory, and democratization. The role is ideally suited to an advanced PhD candidate who would like to gain teaching experience and work in a growing and vibrant faculty.

About the College

Founded in 2012, with the aim of providing the highest quality of education in the humanities and social sciences, New College of the Humanities has established itself as a prestigious, university-level college based in the heart of cultural and intellectual London. Small by design, the College offers a unique and broad liberal arts-inspired curriculum with highly personalised teaching, including the gold standard one-to-one tutorial system. The College is currently going through an exciting period of growth, part of which is having recently become part of Northeastern University's global network.

The College follows a trimester system, the teaching dates can be found here and more information on the Politics and IR degree(s) and the faculty can be found here.

Additional Information

Enquiries

Informal enquiries may be made to Dr Diana Bozhilova, Head of Faculty for Politics & International Relations, by email diana.bozhilova@nchlondon.ac.uk. However, all applications must be made in accordance with the application process specified.

Application Process

Applications should be made via this link midnight, 2nd July 2019. Please reference your application "PT0619". Participation in the equal opportunities section is encouraged, but voluntary.

Applications must include a covering letter of no more than one page that highlights teaching specialisms, experience, and, where applicable, innovation in teaching; and a curriculum vitae.

Candidates who have been shortlisted will be notified by 8th July 2019. Interviews will be held in the week commencing 15th July 2019.

Those shortlisted will be required to attend an interview in person. References will not be required at this stage but will be required at a later stage for the successful candidate.

NCH is committed to providing equal opportunities in an environment that both reflects and creates a rich interaction of people, disciplines and ideas.

Applications are welcome from all sections of the community and will be judged on merit alone. Candidates must be able to demonstrate their eligibility to work in the UK in accordance with the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006.

Person Specification

Criteria	Essential	Desirable
Qualifications
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • PhD² or equivalent in relevant discipline • Membership of professional body/bodies • Higher education teaching qualification or professional recognition e.g. PGCert, FHEA or equivalent 		X X X
Experience/Knowledge
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Substantial experience in relevant research field • An emerging track record in research in relevant subject commensurate with stage of career • Demonstrates depth and breadth of understanding of subject matters at a complex conceptual level • Experience of teaching at UG/PG level 	X X	X X
Skills
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Excellent written and verbal communication skills including presentation skills • Excellent interpersonal skills, communication style and team working • A creative research vision for development, implementation and delivery of successful research projects • Excellent organisational and administrative skills • Ability to form positive working relationships within the College, community, business and other partners 	X X X X X
Attributes
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Commitment to excellence in research and teaching and to providing the highest quality experience for students • Commitment to working within professional and ethical codes of conduct 	X X

² Includes PhD that is pending - evidence will be required