

Privacy Notice for Visitors, Correspondents & Prospective Students

INTRODUCTION

This Privacy Notice applies to visitors to the College and people with whom the College communicates who are neither staff, nor current students, nor alumni, nor board members. It applies to those including prospective applicants such as enquirers, prospectus requesters, event registrants and attendees, external speakers, and all other individuals who have expressed an interest in studying at the College or participating in its activities in another way, such as on one of the College's outreach programmes, such as the Philosophy Certificate and Accelerate London programmes and includes agents and third parties. It applies to those who visit the College for one-off events such as open days, taster lectures, taster days, personal consultations, and to those who attend one of the Colleges outreach programmes or use certain facilities.

The notice explains how the College will process your personal data

The College may update its Privacy Notices at any time; please check back here regularly to review any changes.

WHAT INFORMATION DOES THE COLLEGE HOLD?

The College holds a range of personal data about you, some of which you provide to the College directly and some of which is received from third parties such as agents or third-party companies. Sometimes this means the College may process information related to children in your care.

Examples of the categories of personal data, which the College holds, include:

- Personal details such as name and title
- Contact details such as address, telephone number and email address
- Country of Nationality and Domicile
- Company details
- Study interests

- Qualifications
- Academic institutions attended
- Work samples

The College may also collect, store and use information about your health or religion should you require it to make reasonable adjustments for you during your visit to the College’s or to make resources accessible.

HOW DOES THE COLLEGE USE THIS INFORMATION AND WHY?

The College processes your data to help support your current and future relationship with the College.

The College only processes data for specified purposes and if it is justified in accordance with data protection law. You will find lists the various purposes for which the College processes personal data, and the corresponding justification for it, below.

There may be other processing in addition to the below. This is undertaken in accordance with the College’s policies of which the College will inform you when the data is obtained or as soon as possible afterwards.

Data subject	Data processed and its purpose	Legal basis and justification
Visitors to the College for commercial, community or similar purposes	Name and contact details	Processing is necessary for the College’s legitimate interest in regulating access to the College and managing safety at College building
Students participating in the College’s outreach programmes, including the Philosophy Certificate	Name, contact details, work samples, demographic information will be used to provide assessment standardization and certification.	Contractual necessity, this information is required for assessment and delivery of the certificate. Samples of student projects are used for training and exemplification - the basis for this is consent.
Members of the general public visiting the College for a specific event	Name, contact details and any further information required for your attendance at	Contractual necessity - without this personal data the College may not be the event, such as dietary requirements	able to deliver the event for you

Contractors providing services to the College	Name and contact details	Contractual necessity - without that personal data, the College may be prevented from complying with its legal obligations to ensure the health and safety of visitors to its site and so will be unable to allow you onto its premises to perform the contract
Individuals with whom the College corresponds, such as schools, businesses or recruitment agents	Name and contact details. The College uses your data to keep you up to date with events and initiatives which may be of interest and/or benefit to you	Processing is necessary for the College's legitimate interest in providing you information on items which may be of interest or benefit to you
Members of research communities and collaborators	Contact details for the purposes of maintaining research communities and sharing research-related news and best practice	Public task
Members of the public using College facilities, such as libraries or rooms	Name, contact details and details of any services you have registered for	Contractual necessity
Prospective applicants who enquire to the College, request information at an event, or request a prospectus	Name, contact details, area of interest, country of nationality and domicile. The College uses your data to respond to your enquiry and/or to provide a prospectus	For answering your question, the legal basis for processing is contractual necessity. You may also be sent information regarding the College's events, educational programmes or resources if this would be relevant to potential future study

Individuals booking on a College Open Day, Taster Day or Taster Evening	Name, contact details, subject interest, dietary requirements, and age. The College uses your data to process your booking	For processing your booking, the legal basis is contractual necessity. You may also be sent information regarding the College's events, educational programmes or resources if this would be relevant to potential future study
Enquiry data collected via third-party platforms, such as UCAS, What Uni?, Keystone, The Student Room, etc.	Name, contact details, area of interest, year of entry, school or organisation and further information supplied by the third party that may vary. The College uses your data to send relevant marketing materials of interest to you	The legal basis for processing is consent. You may also be sent information regarding the College's events, educational programmes or resources if this would be relevant to potential future study. The College may also use some of this information as a contractual necessity in its relationship with you

There may be other processing in addition to the above, for example, when you access the College's website which uses cookies, or when the College takes photos or video of our events and publishes them. This is done on the basis of our other policies, and the College will inform you about such processing at the time when the data is obtained or as soon as possible afterwards.

Where the basis of processing your personal data is a contractual necessity and you don't provide the College with the personal data needed, the College may not be able to process your application or provide you with the programme for which you have applied.

WHAT INFORMATION DOES THE COLLEGE GET FROM THIRD PARTIES?

Sometimes the College receives your data from third parties. The following table lists what information the College may receive from them.

Source	Data the College may receive from them
Schools arranging a College visit or engaging in another programme, or providing references for those participating	Personal and contact details, and information relating to your background and living situation where necessary for eligibility purposes
Other institutions arranging a College visit	Personal and contact details

Your employer	Personal and contact details
Third-party marketing companies and recruitment agents	Personal and contact details
UCAS Media	Personal and contact details

WITH WHOM DOES THE COLLEGE SHARE INFORMATION?

Sometimes the College may need to share your data. The following table gives examples of this kind of data sharing.

Recipients	Data which the College may share with them
The College's administrative and support staff	Personal and contact details and, if necessary for the implementation of reasonable adjustments and/or the provision of other support and subject to your consent, health information
Data processors (third parties who process personal data on the College's behalf)	Personal and contact details.
Organisations who run programmes you may move onto after visiting the College, such as placement providers or mentoring schemes	Personal and contact details
School certificate examiners and examinations officers	Personal and contact details, marks and samples of project work
Local authorities	Relevant safeguarding information
Scheme funders or research partners	Contact details, attendance and progression information, and information relating to your background and living situation where necessary for eligibility purposes

HOW LONG DOES THE COLLEGE KEEP YOUR DATA?

Except where the College has a legal or contractual obligation to keep data for a certain period of time, your data will be kept in accordance with the College's retention schedules.

THE DATA PROTECTION OFFICER

The College has appointed a Data Protection Officer. Their postal address is:

Data Protection Officer
New College of the Humanities
The Registry
Bedford Square
London
WC1B 3HH

Queries & Complaints

For more information on your rights, if you wish to exercise any right, for any queries, you may have or if you wish to make a complaint, please the Data Protection Officer.

Complain to the Information Commissioner

You have a right to complain to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) about the way in which the College processes your personal data. You can make a complaint via the ICO's website.

Title	NCH Privacy Notice for Visitors, Correspondents & Prospective Students	Author	Director of Marketing
Location	NCH Academic Handbook	Approved by	Executive Committee
Version	2.0	Last updated	May 2020
Publication date	10 May 2020	Review date	May 2021
Related policies
External Reference Point			