PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

The programme is studied over three years and there are three terms each year: Michaelmas (autumn), Hilary (spring) and Trinity (summer). Michaelmas and Hilary are twelve weeks long and Trinity is eight weeks long.

Michaelmas and Hilary each consists of twelve weeks of intensive study for the degree programme. They incorporate a Reading Week, generally taken in the seventh week of each term, where there are no formal teaching sessions. In the twelfth week of each term Collections are held, these being individual meetings between the student and their tutors to review the student's performance over the term.

Trinity consists of revision, informally and through formal sessions, followed by examinations.

The Art History major will allow students to explore the art of several centuries across a wide geographical span. It will look at traditional areas such as the Italian Renaissance, French Modernist paintings and Western architecture after 1851; and provides the opportunity to engage in depth with Byzantine, Islamic and North American material culture. This Art History programme will not only critically examine works of art produced in different regions at different times, but will also make visible the various theoretical and methodological frameworks – as well as blind spots – that shape interpretation and guide the appreciation of art and culture. Studying Art History is not just a way of coming to terms with our past artistic legacies, it is a way of actively preparing for the future.

terms with our past artistic legacies – it is a way of actively preparing for the future.

The English Minor gives students the opportunity to engage deeply with literary texts from a range of periods. In the first year, they study Criticism, which teaches how to read literature both through close attention to literary detail, and through theoretical perspectives. In the second year, students take the course 'Shakespeare and his Afterlives', which first studies a number of Shakespeare plays in detail, before considering the cultural reception of Shakespeare across art forms and around the world from 1660 to the present. In the third year students can choose to study either 'Cultures of London', which explores the wide range of London's cultures across time, or 'Comparative Literature', which explores theory and practice of comparison between literatures of different times, places and languages, and between different art forms.

RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING

Where a student wishes to apply for the recognition of prior learning on the basis of certificated or experiential learning, they should follow the College's Recognition of Prior Learning and Credit Transfer Policy.

AIMS OF THE PROGRAMME

The aims of the major (Art History) part of the programme are to:

- Enable students to acquire and develop knowledge and an understanding of the cultural and historical role of works of art, architecture and design. The discipline educates students to look closely at art objects, to consider them in terms of their physical and aesthetic values, to interpret the visual or symbolic meaning within them, and to seek out and understand the historical and cultural contexts that produced them.

The aim of the minor (English) part of the programme is to:

- Help students become more knowledgeable and penetrating interpreters of verbal art – principally verbal art originally written in English.
- Bring rigour to students' thinking, and advance their power of engagement with both literary texts and the issues with which they engage.

The overall aim of the programme is to:

- Provide a teaching and learning environment which achieves the above aims by enabling students to demonstrate the learning outcomes below.

TEACHING AND LEARNING

The faculty make use of various teaching and learning strategies to provoke interest, knowledge and skills in the courses being delivered.

The delivery methods are:

- Tutorials (based on essays submitted by the student, with written and/or oral feedback on their progress)
- Seminars for small group discussion
- Lectures
- Study visits and handling sessions
- Consolidation and revision sessions
- Examinations and examiners' reports
- Independent study and research

The style of teaching at the College exposes students to lectures that capture their interest and excite their curiosity. These lectures are designed to allow interactivity and a short time of discussion and questioning (throughout or at the end of each lecture, as appropriate).

Tutorials and group seminar sessions enable unparalleled focus on the individual student, prompt and encourage independent reading and research, and facilitate lively, structured discussion. Students receive detailed feedback, written and/or verbal, on their formative assignments, and ideas and arguments are approached from new angles and in new contexts to enable the consolidation and review of material.

The programme is designed to progress steadily over three years and develop students' conceptual sophistication through cumulative experience and knowledge. The third-year dissertation course will allow students to develop their thinking in collaboration with a supervisor.

RESOURCES

The students experience and study is supported by the College's Virtual Learning Environment (VLE), where students can preview and download course descriptors, reading lists, PowerPoints and supplementary materials. Students also have access to Senate House Library and online research resources, such as JStor and Jisc.

Sample and/or past examination papers, as well as examiners' reports, are available to help students understand what is expected of them.

RESEARCH

Faculty aim to provide a lively, open, and interactive teaching environment, in which research and teaching are complementary. Faculty believe that teaching should be informed by the research of the staff member and so where possible teaching is allocated in line with the research interests and expertise of lecturers. Faculty also facilitate a wide range of academic and social events in which students and faculty are brought together, generating a collegial environment in which both staff and students can discuss their latest work.

Students are taught research skills in the following ways:

- a) At the beginning of Michaelmas Term of the first year, students are encouraged to attend induction sessions at Senate House Library on the use of the Senate House

Library catalogue, other library catalogues, and other electronic resources relevant to the programme.

- b) Students are provided with guidelines on how to research and write essays for Art History at Freshers' Inductions.
- c) Research skills are consistently addressed during the one-to-one tutorials that students receive through each year of their degree.
- d) Research skills particular to the writing of dissertations are taught in a special seminar workshop at the beginning of the final year of the degree.

ASSESSMENT

Assessment in Art History aims to examine:

- Knowledge and understanding of different periods of art history.
- The ability to recognise, describe and contextualise art objects with appropriate art historical language.
- The ability to apply established critical approaches to the analysis of art historical issues.
- The ability to express oneself fluently, clearly and precisely in prose.
- The ability to express oneself with fluency and coherence whilst making a visual presentation.
- The ability to engage in a sustained piece of independent research.

Assessment in English aims to examine:

- Breadth and depth of subject knowledge (including relevant contextual knowledge).
- The demonstration of powers of textual analysis, including an informed ability to evaluate and reflect upon linguistic and stylistic choices.
- The management of discursive analysis and argument, including an awareness of alternative or contextualising lines of argument which form part of scholarly debates.
- Rhetorical strategies which demonstrate the convincing deployment and evaluation of evidence.
- Clear communication of ideas in oral and written forms.
- Independence of mind and originality of interpretative practice.

Courses are assessed in a variety of ways, including:

FORMATIVE:

- Tutorial essays
- Oral presentations

SUMMATIVE:

- Written examinations
- Written assignment

- Dissertation

Appendix C contains the programme structure and assessment summary.

ASSESSMENT REGULATIONS

The College's Assessment Regulations for Taught Awards can be found here.

STUDENT SUPPORT

DISABILITIES AND/OR SPECIFIC LEARNING DIFFICULTIES (SPLDS)

Students are asked to complete a Student Disclosure Form, where they can list any medical conditions, disabilities and/or SpLDs and give consent to who can have access to this information. Students are asked to submit supporting documentation from a doctor, clinical or educational psychologist detailing the nature of their disability and the impact it is likely to have on their studies. More information can be found here. This data is managed and securely stored by Student Support and Development (SSD). During Freshers' Week, a number of talks and events are held which are designed to support and inform students with regard to mental health, disabilities, safety and learning support.

SSD meet with students as soon as possible, and preferably before the start of the academic year, to discuss their needs and help set up support systems both within the College (if appropriate) and externally. If requested by the student, the SDD will then arrange to inform relevant faculty of the student's needs and any reasonable adjustments required.

If a student is undiagnosed but believes they may have a SpLDS (e.g. Dyslexia) the SDD will help them to access diagnostic services. If the assessment confirms a SpLDS, the SDD will discuss further support options with the student and their tutors. The SSD is in contact with local dyslexia tutors for advice or student referral. The College can help provide students with special learning equipment (e.g. coloured paper, reading pens, dictation software, etc.).

For more information, please click here.

EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

The Art History programme develops all the skills associated with a degree in the Humanities, including communication and presentation skills, research and critical thinking.

However, studying Art History also provides students with the skills to interpret and connect to the visual world, enhancing their ability to analyse, question and engage critically with issues confronting society.

Further information is provided in the individual course descriptors.

CAREERS EDUCATION, INFORMATION AND GUIDANCE

College Careers Advisers help students to identify their career goals and create individual career plans. Students are actively encouraged to seek internships, with guidance given throughout the application process.

The College runs LAUNCH, which represents part of the NCH Diploma and has been designed in collaboration with a large number of experts from different types of industries. This has been designed to develop the attitudes, behaviours and capabilities that will prepare students for the world of work. It consists of two substantial projects, where students are required to work in teams to address real world assignments, and weekly seminars covering working in teams, marketing, writing and presenting, working in teams, and other transferable skills applicable to any professional activity.

For more information, please click here.

QUALITY EVALUATION AND ENHANCEMENT

AWARD STANDARDS

Every programme of study is developed by the Faculties, utilising their subject specialists and approved by the College's Academic Board.

REVIEW AND EVALUATION MECHANISMS

The College has robust procedures, as described in AQF4 Programme and Course Approval and Modifications and AQF5 Annual Monitoring and Reporting, in place to assure the quality of the programme development, delivery, and management, alongside systematic monitoring, ongoing review and enhancement of all College programmes. Enhancements are made as necessary to ensure that systems remain effective and rigorous.

The College utilises constructive feedback from a variety of sources, internal and external, to inform its decision-making process to enhance the programme and the student experience.

These feedback sources are:

- Annual Course Reviews, written by the Course Leader, are prepared to enable the Course Leader to reflect on the course, using a variety of data and student/faculty feedback to enhance the course and support the Head of Faculty in writing the Annual Faculty Review.
- Annual Faculty Reviews, written by the Head of Faculty, are prepared in order to enhance individual programmes and to plan ahead.
- Annual External Examiner Reports are prepared by independent External Examiners, as appointed by the College, to confirm that a programme has been assessed in accordance with the approved documentation and that the student performance meets the appropriate academic standards.
- Formal student feedback mechanisms consist of course questionnaires on a termly basis, termly Student-Staff Liaison Committee and annual student satisfaction surveys, including external independent survey, such the National Student Survey.
- Informal student feedback is also valued by the College and this can take the form of students talking to their tutors, Head of Faculty or professional staff. Students may also raise matters with their Personal Tutor.
