

Assistant Professor (Teaching & Scholarship) in International Relations

POSITION OVERVIEW

Department	Politics and International Relations
Location	London
Term	1-year, potentially renewable
Salary	£36,000 to £41,000 (pro rata 0.5FTE)
Benefits	Generous benefits package including 25 days holiday allowance pro rata (excl. Bank holidays), group life assurance, group income protection, pension schemes and private healthcare (optional)
Start	No later than 15 August 2021

The role

The New College of Humanities at Northeastern wishes to appoint a part-time Assistant Professor (Teaching & Scholarship) in International Relations.

We wish to appoint specialists in any area of International Relations theory and practice. Appointees will be flexible, able, and willing to be wide-ranging in their teaching and in their professional development. Preference may be given to candidates with active interests in the relationship of International Relations to one or more of the following areas: software and/or technology; employment contexts; diversity and inclusion. Preference may also be given to candidates with expertise in anthropological, sociological, or cultural approaches to the field and/or with a focus on urban studies.

Core duties will include teaching incoming mobility students from the Northeastern Network as required, as well as wider educational and administrative duties. Appointees will contribute as appropriate to curriculum development and renewal in relation to International Relations, and to do so in interdisciplinary collaboration with other fields.

We particularly encourage applications from those with an interest in innovative teaching, learning and assessment; those with experience of supporting a wide variety of students; and those belonging to groups underrepresented in UK higher education. We are open to appointing on a reduced fraction/job-share basis subject to our business needs.

About the College

Founded in 2012, with the aim of providing the highest quality of education in the humanities and social sciences, New College of the Humanities at Northeastern has established itself as a prestigious higher education institution based in the heart of London. We offer a unique and broad liberal arts-inspired curriculum with highly personalised teaching, which may include tutorials. The College is undergoing an exciting period of growth, having become part of Northeastern University's global network in early 2019.

Enquiries

Informal enquiries may be made to Dr Diana Bozhilova, Head of Faculty of Politics & International Relations (diana.bozhilova@nchlondon.ac.uk). However, all applications must be made in accordance with the application process specified.

Application Process

Applications should be made via this link by 20.00, 25 June 2021. Please reference your application "IR0621".

Please ensure that your application takes the form of the required dossier found here and upload on the link. You can consult our academic job description here

Participation in the equal opportunities section is encouraged, but voluntary.

Applications are welcome from all sections of the community and will be judged on merit alone. Candidates must be able to demonstrate their eligibility to work in the UK in accordance with the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006. We are not able to provide Tier 2 Sponsorship for this role.

Person Specification Criteria

Qualifications

- PhD, or equivalent professional experience, in a relevant area of International Relations

Key Criteria

- Demonstrates, through evidence, excellent ability so as to be adaptable, innovative, and inclusive in undertaking the role as advertised with regards to teaching and service
- Flexibility and capacity to teach across a wide range of courses
- Ability to develop excellent educational provision in areas with significant appeal to students, including at postgraduate level
- Willingness and capacity to undertake continuous professional development in relation to the use of technology, software, and data in relation to International Relations, and to teach on these matters
- Ability to engage and develop working relationships with relevant employers