

Lecturers (Teaching) in Business & Economics

POSITION OVERVIEW

Department	Economics
Location	London
Term	Until 31 July 2022
Salary	£36,000 (pro rata – see main body of advert)
Benefits	Generous benefits package including 25 days holiday allowance pro rata (excl. Bank holidays), group life assurance, group income protection, pension schemes and private healthcare (optional)
Start	No later than 15 August 2021

The role

The New College of Humanities at Northeastern wishes to appoint up to 3 part-time Lecturers (Teaching) in Business & Economics. While it is expected that Lecturers will be appointed to 0.34FTE positions, there may be some scope or need for variation, at the College's discretion, depending on expertise, timetabling, and availability, providing the business needs of the College are met through the overall pattern of all appointments.

We wish to appoint specialists in Business & Economics who are able to teach on microeconomics, macroeconomics and/or international business. The appointees will be flexible, able, and willing to be wide-ranging in their teaching and in their professional development. Preference may be given to candidates with active interests in the relationship of these aspects of Business & Economics to one or more of the following areas: software and/or technology; employment contexts; diversity and inclusion. Preference may also be given to candidates who are able to cover all the specialisms we are seeking.

Core duties will include preparation of classes, teaching, marking, and office hours for designated pre-existing courses for incoming students from the Northeastern network, as well as education support work as required by the College.

We particularly encourage applications from those with an interest in innovative teaching, learning and assessment; those with experience of supporting a wide variety of students; and those belonging to groups underrepresented in UK higher education.

About the College

Founded in 2012, with the aim of providing the highest quality of education in the humanities and social sciences, New College of the Humanities at Northeastern has established itself as a prestigious higher education institution based in the heart of London. We offer a unique and broad liberal arts-inspired curriculum with highly personalised teaching, which may include tutorials. The College is undergoing an exciting period of growth, having become part of Northeastern University's global network in early 2019.

Enquiries

Informal enquiries may be made to Dr Marianna Koli, Head of Faculty of Economics (marianna.koli@nchlondon.ac.uk). However, all applications must be made in accordance with the application process specified.

Application Process

Applications should be made via this link by 20.00, 25 June 2021. Please reference your application "BE0621".

Please ensure that your application takes the form of the required dossier found here and upload on the link. You can consult our academic job description here

Participation in the equal opportunities section is encouraged, but voluntary.

Applications are welcome from all sections of the community and will be judged on merit alone. Candidates must be able to demonstrate their eligibility to work in the UK in accordance with the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006. We are not able to provide Tier 2 Sponsorship for this role.

Person Specification Criteria

Qualifications

- Masters, or equivalent professional experience, in a relevant area of Business and Economics, and preferably a PhD

Key Criteria

- Demonstrates, through evidence, excellent ability so as to be adaptable, innovative, and inclusive in undertaking the role as advertised with regards to teaching and related activities
- Ability to develop and deliver excellent educational provision in the required areas
- Ability to provide support in relation to education provision, including organization and coordination as required
- Ability to provide excellent, personalized support to students, including through office hours