Reports to	Pathway Programme Manager

The New College of the Humanities (NCH) is hiring for several Pathway Programme Coordinators (PPC) based in London, England for the Fall 2021 and Spring 2022 semesters. The College is looking to appoint a combination of permanent and fixed-term positions. Pathway Programme Coordinators support the physical, emotional, social, and academic needs of first year and study abroad students who are on a programme approved by Northeastern University, Boston, Massachusetts, USA.

In addition to supporting students and colleagues at NCH, PPCs focus on creating positive and valuable experiential learning for students in their academic coursework, the city of London, and the Chapter Spitalfields student residence. PPCs will work collaboratively and are supervised by the Pathway Programme Manager (PPM). PPC enthusiastically embody the mission and values of Northeastern University, NU pathway programmes, and NCH while working and living in close proximity to study abroad students.

For the coming year, site staff will reside in Chapter Spitalfields. The studio rooms offer access to a premium residential experience. With elevated views over central London, the rooms have their own private kitchenette, workspace and en-suite bathrooms, offering a homely space to relax and work from. All residential staff enjoy free access to all the amenities on site including gym access, a private 32nd floor bar, cinema room, karaoke space and more.

The team of PPCs will assist with managing several cohorts of students who are studying at NCH for one or more semesters:

- The N.U.in Programme Student Cohort: The N.U.in Programme runs during the fall semester and is geared towards well-qualified students who are a good fit for an international or cohort program during their first semester.
- NU Bound Student Cohort: NU Bound is an academically rigorous one-year Northeastern-sponsored program for select students which provides a pathway to transfer to Northeastern University in a student's second year of university study.
- Global Engagement Programme Student Cohort: This invitation-only year-round programme is offered to select high-talent students who have been accepted to Northeastern. Students in this programme study business or business and economics or political science.
- Global Quest Student Cohort: Global Quest is a first-year programme where students spend their Fall semester in Boston and Spring semester in London. Students are recruited from the pool of all admitted students.
- Semester In London Student Cohort: This cohort of students represents a more traditional study-abroad model for high performing students at Northeastern.

This is an in-person position that requires site staff to live in the student accommodation, the Chapter Spitalfields, with students during the Fall 2021 and Spring 2022 semesters which run from August 2021 – April 2022.

PPCs are responsible for supporting many facets of the Northeastern student experience at the New College of the Humanities.
