Assistant Professor (Teaching & Research) in Cognitive Psychology

POSITION OVERVIEW

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Department</th>
<th>Psychology (located within the Faculty of Philosophy)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Location</td>
<td>London, Devon House (St Katherines Dock)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Term</td>
<td>Permanent; Full-time</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hours</td>
<td>Monday to Friday (38 hours per week)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Salary</td>
<td>£38,000-£41,000 per annum</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Benefits</td>
<td>Generous benefits package including 25 days holiday allowance pro rata (excl. Bank holidays), group life assurance, group income protection, pension schemes and private healthcare (optional)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Start</td>
<td>1 July 2022</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The role

The New College of Humanities at Northeastern wishes to appoint an Assistant Professor in Psychology, with a specialism in Cognitive Psychology. The appointee will conduct excellent and impactful research, and develop and deliver innovative and inclusive teaching, in Cognitive Psychology and/or related areas. They will also provide innovative and inclusive teaching within the area(s) of specialism at undergraduate level, and contribute to the development and expansion of the discipline at the College, while providing service to the institution and the profession.

Preference may be given to candidates with active interests in the relationship of Cognitive Psychology to one or more of the following areas: software and/or technology; employment contexts; diversity and inclusion. The abilities to develop and deliver teaching in other areas of Psychology may also be an advantage.

Core duties will include: developing and delivering innovative and inclusive teaching in (especially Cognitive) Psychology for undergraduate students; conducting excellent and impactful research, and seeking out (interdisciplinary) collaborations and external funding and partnerships; contributing to the expansion of Psychology and related disciplines at NCH, as part of Northeastern University's global network; providing service to the institution and the profession, (e.g. sitting on appropriate committees) at a level commensurate with experience.

We particularly encourage applications from those with an interest in innovative teaching, learning and assessment; those with experience of supporting a wide variety of students; and those belonging to groups underrepresented in UK higher education. We are open to appointing on a reduced fraction/job-share basis subject to our business needs.

Department

The discipline of Psychology is institutionally housed within the Faculty of Philosophy at NCH (along with Computer and Data science). The Faculty currently offers a minor concentration in Psychology, as well as undergraduate courses intended for visiting students; it plans to expand its offerings to include a major, and perhaps a masters, in the near future. There are ample opportunities within the Faculty for interdisciplinary collaboration in relation to both teaching (for instance, on the BA Philosophy and Cognitive Science) and research (e.g. within the Cognitive Science Research Group). Faculty members have established connections across the Northeastern University global network, including within the College of Science's Department of Psychology.

About the College

Founded in 2012, New College of the Humanities has established itself as a prestigious higher education institution based in the heart of London. After becoming part of Northeastern University's global network in early 2019, the College has undergone a period of rapid growth, having been granted Taught Degree Awarding Powers in February 2020 and moved to a new, state-of-the-art campus in 2021. NCH continues to grow further expanding its student cohort, courses, network and opportunities.
Additional Information

Enquiries

Informal enquiries may be made to the Head of Faculty, Dr Brian Ball (brian.ball@nchlondon.ac.uk). However, all applications must be made in accordance with the application process specified.

Application Process

Applications should be made via this link by 20:00 on 25 March 2022. Please reference your application “PHILCP322”.

Please ensure that your application includes a CV and dossier (alternatively, an equivalent cover letter) that sets out concisely and in ways relevant to this role: (a) what your priorities would be in performing the advertised role; (b) what your objectives are for your future career; (c) a statement of your approach to education. You may use bullet points if you wish. You can consult our academic job description here.

Participation in the equal opportunities section is encouraged, but voluntary. Applications are welcome from all sections of the community and will be judged on merit alone. We welcome applications from underrepresented groups. Candidates must be able to demonstrate their eligibility to work in the UK in accordance with the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006. The College can potentially provide sponsorship for this role.

Person Specification Criteria

Qualifications

- PhD completed, or near completion (all but dissertation), or equivalent professional experience, in a relevant area.

Key Criteria

- Demonstrates, through evidence, excellent ability so as to be adaptable, innovative, and inclusive in the role as advertised with regards to teaching, research, and service

- Willingness and ability to undertake world-leading collaborative, impact-focused projects, and large external research bids, involving colleagues across a range of disciplines as well as external partners.

- Flexibility and capacity to teach across a wide range of courses, where appropriate in collaboration with specialists from other disciplines.
● Ability to develop excellent educational provision in areas with significant appeal to students, including at postgraduate level.
● Willingness and capacity to undertake continuous professional development in relation to the use of technology, software, and data in relation to Cognitive Psychology, and to teach on these matters.
● Ability to engage and develop working relationships with external partners and with colleagues across diverse disciplines in NCH at Northeastern and across the NU Network.
● Willingness and capacity to exercise appropriate leadership in the development of Psychology, and to do so through collaboration with a range of disciplines.