COURSE SUMMARY

The Contract Law course enables students to develop knowledge and understanding of the principles of contract law and their application, by considering the formation of a contract, requirements for its enforceability, its terms and its subsequent discharge, and by analysing the effects of the different types of discharge and any associated remedies.

COURSE AIMS

The Contract Law course enables students to develop knowledge and understanding of the principles of contract law and their application, by considering the formation of a contract, requirements for its enforceability, its terms and its subsequent discharge, and by analysing the effects of the different types of discharge and any associated remedies. Within these parameters the aims of the course are to:

- Develop the students' powers of interpretation and analysis of legislation and case law as it applies to contracts.
- Give an understanding of different types of contract and their role in supporting transactions in a market society, so as to enhance students' understanding of later courses that require an appreciation of contractual issues.
- Stimulate thinking about how the rules of contract law can support commercial transactions and consumer activity.
- Give an understanding of when, how and why remedies are applied in the law of contract.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

On successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

TEACHING AND LEARNING

Teaching and learning strategies for this course will typically include:

- 22.5 hours of full-cohort lectures
- 8 hours of seminars
- Two 45 minute two-to-one tutorials
- Two 30 minute one-to-one tutorials
- One 90 minute revision session

Note: the seminars and lectures may be interchanged at times, depending on the needs of the course.

Course information and supplementary materials are available on the College's Virtual Learning Environment (VLE).

Students will attend Collections (formal meetings) in which they receive comprehensive and collated feedback on their performance.

Students are required to attend and participate in all the formal and timetabled sessions for this course. Students are also expected to manage their directed learning and independent study in support of the course.

EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

- The course addresses core needs for practicing lawyers, especially research, communication, and presentation skills.
- The course teaches skills allowing continuing professional development.

ASSESSMENT

FORMATIVE

Students will be formatively assessed during the course by means of set assignments. These do not count towards the end of year results, but will provide students with developmental feedback, helping students to become more sophisticated in their analysis of statutes and case law.

SUMMATIVE

Assessment will be in two forms:

AE:	Assessment Activity	Weighting (%)	Online submission	Duration	Length
1	Written assignment	40	Yes	N/A	2,000 words
2	Examination	60	N/A	2 hours	N/A

The examination will consist of a number of questions from which the student will have the choice of answering a specified number. Both the examination and the written assignment will be assessed in accordance with the assessment aims set out in the Programme Specification.

FEEDBACK

Students will receive formal feedback in a variety of ways: written (including via email correspondence); oral (within one-to-one tutorials or on an ad hoc basis) and indirectly through discussion during group tutorials. Student's will also attend the formal meeting, Collections, in which they will receive constructive and developmental feedback on their performance.

Feedback on examinations is provided through generic internal examiners' reports and are made available to the student on the VLE. For all other summative assessment methods, feedback is made available to the student either via email, the VLE or another appropriate method.
