COURSE SUMMARY

Equity and the Law of Trusts encompasses many areas of law and in practice can provide solutions to otherwise insuperable problems. Equitable devices and trusts are extremely versatile and a grasp of the applicable principles is essential to an effective understanding of the law and other areas of law. Trusts will be developed as Equity's main creation to ameliorate the rigours of the common law approach to property title.

The course will explore the role of equitable rights and remedies as a "gloss" upon the common law. The ethical values, philosophical principles, historical development, contemporary significance and practical implications relating to this relationship will be considered.

COURSE AIMS

The primary aim of the course is to fulfil the key elements and general principles of Equity and the Law of Trusts as required by the SRA/BSB Academic Stage Handbook for a Qualifying Law Degree. Within that parameter the aims of the course are to:

- Examine the contribution made by Equity to civil law in counter-point to the common law.
- Provide students with a comprehensive understanding of the nature of Equity, trusts, the equitable rules regarding them, the responsibilities of trustees and their control of trust property. Emphasis will be placed on principles and ethical values underpinning this area of law and their policy implications.
- Provide students with an appreciation of the controversies and difficulties that can be encountered in this area of law.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

On successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

KNOWLEDGE AND UNDERSTANDING

- K1b Review the theories, principles, doctrines, values and rules which underpin equity and the law of trusts in England and Wales, including those relating to charities, trustees and equitable remedies.
- K2b Review the equitable jurisdiction of a court in the context of trusts, and that we have now fused courts of law and equity.
- K3b Evaluate the equitable jurisdiction of the English legal system.

COGNITIVE SKILLS

- C1b Apply knowledge and critical understanding to determine solutions to problems of equity and the law of trusts.
- C2b Critically evaluate factual information, selecting and prioritising from possible alternatives, using reasoned judgment and recognised arguments applying to equity and the law of trusts.
- C3b Recognise ambiguity with and understand limits of law when dealing with equity and the law of trusts.

TRANSFERABLE AND PROFESSIONAL SKILLS

- T1b Communicate information, arguments and analysis effectively to specialist and non-specialist audiences, using a variety of media and technological resources whilst demonstrating accurate use of English and legal terminology.
- T1b Demonstrate an effective technical proficiency of written English that uses a wide range of literacy skills and vocabulary selected appropriately to communicate to specialist and non-specialist audiences.
- T2b Undertake further development of personal skills and competences by effective use of feedback, reflection, determination of needs, acquisition of knowledge and skills and collaborative working.
- T3b Further develop skills in self-directed research using a wide range of legal and other information sources, evaluating and selecting information based on reasoned criteria.

TEACHING AND LEARNING

Teaching and learning strategies for this course will include:

- 15 hours of full-cohort lectures
- 10 hours of group seminars
- 4 x 45-minute one-to-one tutorials per student
- 1 x 3 hour revision session

Course information and supplementary materials are available on the College's Virtual Learning Environment (VLE).

Students will attend Collections (formal meetings) in which they receive comprehensive and collated feedback on their performance.

Students are required to attend and participate in all the formal and timetabled sessions for this course. Students are also expected to manage their directed learning and independent study in support of the course.

EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

- This course afford students the option of developing their knowledge of property law, trusts and Equity in a practical and theoretical way. This knowledge will be of considerable use in a workplace setting. In terms of skills the course affords students the ability to develop their written, oral, presentation and communication skills.

ASSESSMENT

FORMATIVE

Students will be formatively assessed during the course by means of set assignments. These do not count towards the end of year results, but will provide students with developmental feedback and feedforward.

SUMMATIVE

Assessment will be in two forms:

AE:	Assessment Activity	Weighting (%)	Online submission	Duration	Length
1	Written assignment	40%	Yes	N/A	2,000 Words
2	Examination	60%	N/A	2 hours	N/A

The examination will consist of a number of questions from which the student will have the choice of answering a specified number. Both the examination and the written assignment will be assessed in accordance with the assessment aims set out in the Programme Specification.

FEEDBACK

Students will receive formal feedback in a variety of ways: written (including via email correspondence); oral (within one-to-one tutorials or on an ad hoc basis) and indirectly through discussion during group tutorials. Student's will also attend the formal meeting, Collections, in which they will receive constructive and developmental feedback on their performance.

Feedback on examinations is provided through generic internal examiners' reports and are made available to the student on the VLE. For all other summative assessment methods, feedback is made available to the student either via email, the VLE or another appropriate method.
