

Course booklet

- Law with Art History LLB (Hons)
- Law with Creative Writing LLB (Hons)
- Law with Data Science LLB (Hons)
- Law with Economics LLB (Hons)
- Law with English LLB (Hons)
- Law with History LLB (Hons)
- Law with Philosophy LLB (Hons)
- Law with Politics & IR LLB (Hons)
- Law with Psychology LLB (Hons)

New College of
the Humanities

Contents

- 03 Welcome
- 04 Your qualifications
- 05 How you will be taught
- 06 Your reading list
- 08 NCH Diploma courses
- 09 Recent graduate career progress
- 10 Where the Law major at NCH can take you
- 12 Next steps

Welcome to the Law major at NCH!

This degree introduction lays out what you will be studying for your degree, an introduction to the NCH Diploma, how you will be taught, and what qualifications you will receive when you graduate. You will also find your reading list, which has been designed by our faculty, allowing you to get into the mindset of a NCH student.

Each of our programmes of study is designed to give you academic rigour and fulfillment, and to challenge your thinking as you are introduced to new concepts and synergies.

If you have any questions about your programme, you can email your buddy, contact the admissions team, or chat to one of our student ambassadors on UniBuddy!

info@nchlondon.ac.uk

Your qualifications

The College is an established Higher Education Provider which is registered with the Office for Students. The College can sponsor international students via its Student Route visa licence.

New College of the Humanities' degrees have been designed and created by the College's professors and faculty. The courses reflect their areas of expertise and research interests, meaning they are strongly engaged with the material they will teach you, and there may be opportunities for students to participate in active research.

In addition to your degree, to reflect the greater richness of your studies and the additional core courses of the 'LAUNCH' professional development programme that you study at the College, you will be awarded the NCH Diploma. The Diploma sets you apart from other graduates by marking the greater breadth of your education at the College. The NCH Diploma is a non-credit bearing award.

How you will be taught

Teaching is delivered by experienced and enthusiastic academics through a mixture of tutorials, seminars and interactive lectures.

NCH class sizes allow everyone the chance to participate and thrive.

Your contact hours will include a mixture of teaching methods best suited to the subject matter and to achieve the learning outcomes for each individual course.

For more specific information on your teaching and courses, please check the NCH Academic Handbook: www.nchlondon.ac.uk/about-us/academic-handbook

On 24 February 2020, New College of the Humanities was granted Taught Degree Awarding Powers (TDAP) by Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council. This means that the College is now able to award its own degrees.

Your reading list

We encourage you to dip into some of the books below to obtain a sense of what is involved in legal studies.

It is not compulsory to read all or any of the texts but we do believe you will find it easier to adjust to undergraduate study if you are familiar with some of the concepts covered in your degree.

At this stage, it is best to gain a general overview rather than attempt to acquire a detailed understanding of any specific topic. The following books will assist you to do so.

- Barnard, O'Sullivan and Virgo, What About Law? (2nd edn, Hart, 2011).
- Holland and Webb, Learning Legal Rules (9th edn, Oxford University Press, 2016).
- ATH Smith's Glanville Williams, Learning the Law (16th edn, Sweet & Maxwell, 2016).
- McBride's Letters to a Law Student: A Guide to Studying Law at University (4th edn, 2017, Pearson).
- M Partington, Introduction to the Legal System (2017-2018, OUP, 2018).

Your minor reading list

Art History

- Gombrich, E H, (2007). The Story of Art, 16th edition, New York: Phaidon Press.
- Kirby, J, (2011). A Closer Look - Techniques of Painting, London: National Gallery.

Creative Writing

- Cowan, A, The Art of Writing Fiction (Harlow, England; New York: Longman, 2011).
- Davis, R, Writing Dialogue for Scripts: Effective Dialogue for Film, TV, Radio and Stage (London: A&C Black Publications, 2008).

Data Science

- Stevens, P, How to Write Good Programs: A Guide for Students.
- Python 3.8, should be downloaded in preparation for the Programming with Data course.
- The basics of Python are taught through practical exercises on the Code Academy.

Economics

- Frank, R, (2008), The Economic Naturalist: Why Economics Explains Almost Everything, Virgin Books.

- Goodwin, M, Burr, D E, (2012) Economix: How Our Economy Works (And Doesn't Work), Abrams ComicArts.

English

- Rankine, C, Citizen.
- Shakespeare, W, Henry V.

History

- Harari, Y N, (2014), A Brief History of Humankind. London: Harvill Secker.

Philosophy

- Blackburn, S, (1999), Think.
- Murdoch, I, (1970), The Sovereignty of Good.

Politics & International Relations

- Dryzek, J, Honig, B, Phillips, A, (2008), The Oxford Handbook of Political Theory. Oxford: Oxford University Press.
- Waltz, Kenneth (1959), Man, the State, and War New York: Columbia University Press.

Psychology

- Hayes, N, (2011), Psychology Made Simple: Flash.
- Kalat, J, (2011), Introduction to Psychology.

Find the full version of your minor reading list on our website: nchlondon.ac.uk/reading-list-ug

NCH Diploma Courses

The core courses – Applied Ethics, Critical Reasoning and Science Literacy – equip you with an intelligent understanding of the concepts, arguments and theories that underpin the study of the humanities, enabling you to approach your degree studies in a more rounded and enlightened way.

LAUNCH provides students with an understanding of the world of work, and helps students to develop the attitudes and behaviours that are required by employers. It is practical, and complements the College's academic curriculum.

LAUNCH is delivered by staff and visiting fellows who have been selected on the basis of their expertise and practical experience in their given field.

Workshops will cover the following topics:

- Writing and presenting
- Working in teams
- Personal branding
- Interview training
- Entrepreneurship
- Digital literacy
- Data management

Recent graduate career progress

Susan graduated with a training contract at Clifford Chance and went on to become an Associate in Litigation & Dispute Resolution.

Anna qualified with Hogan Lovells and went on to become a Litigation Associate at Kirkland & Ellis.

Pacome went on to become a Sales Account Manager at Bloomberg.

Tahmid started work at M&C Saatchi as an Account Executive and was promoted to Account Director.

Following a summer internship at PwC, Kasia graduated with a role as Assurance Associate at PwC, and has since been promoted to Senior Assurance Associate.

One to One Careers Coaching

Starting from your first term at the College, Ursula will work with you to identify your ambition, develop a personal narrative, and assist you in assembling the personal and professional experiences that will make you a compelling candidate.

In your second and third year, she will assist you with individual applications for law firms, pupillages, vacation schemes, training contracts. In addition to your individual career aspirations and professional development, Ursula organises a number of legal career workshops, seminars and webinars each year for the Law Faculty, furthering your commercial awareness and introducing you to wider legal topics over and above the core curriculum studied on the LLB. There are a number of guest speakers from top law firms and chambers, including a career at the bar and application for scholarships. Ursula has valuable links with a number of city law firms and organises annual visits to Middle and Inner Temple.

Where the Law major at NCH can take you

NCH offers a unique and comprehensive career development pathway for Law students, tailored to you in accordance with your specific professional aspirations.

Through one-to-one careers counselling combined with seminars, workshops, and guest speakers, we will guide and support you in choosing and preparing for your career, nurturing you through your applications for training contracts, vacation schemes and pupillages.

Furthermore, NCH Law graduates who wish to progress to postgraduate study or international practice can enjoy a generous alumni discount and preferred application process for the LLM at Northeastern University, which is available online. It will further enhance your career development and can lead towards taking the California Bar.

Chat on UniBuddy

Chat to current students, including students who study Law, to find out what NCH is really like!

Have questions about:

- Employability options
- Admissions
- Funding
- Wellbeing
- Accommodation

Contact your admissions contact or email us at: info@nchlondon.ac.uk

Have you followed us on social media yet? @nchlondon

This document is prepared ahead of the academic period to which it relates to provide potential students with an overview of the programmes for which they are applying. As a result, there may be infrequent occasions when the College is unable to offer individual courses, degree programmes, or services described herein. Furthermore, the College reserves the right to withdraw individual courses or degree programmes where there is an insufficient number of applications or confirmed students to make the course viable. On such occasions, students will be informed of changes within a reasonable timescale and another individual course or degree programme will be offered, which will have equal academic benefit to the course or degree programme originally described.

From time to time, individual faculty members may stop teaching at the College. In such instances, the College will undertake reasonable endeavours to ensure that students are taught by another academic with an appropriate level of qualification, research interests, and experience.

New College of
the Humanities

