

VLE Officer

Job Description

Position overview

Department	Learning Resources
Location	Campus (London) and remote working (limited)
Term	Full-time; permanent
Hours	Mon - Fri 38hrs per week (9:00 – 17:30)
Salary	£29,000 - £32,000 per annum, depending on experience
Benefits	25 days holiday allowance pro rata (excluding Bank holidays), group life assurance, group income protection, pension scheme, and optional private healthcare.
Start	August 2022

The VLE Officer supports students and colleagues to maximise engagement with the Canvas VLE. Working in a team of three and in partnership with the academic developer, the VLE Officer uses project management tools to manage their own workflow operating and developing the Canvas VLE.

The VLE Officer manages and provides advise on systems that include Zoom, Panopto, and Turnitin, and runs processes that include building new courses, and migrating existing courses located on NCH and Northeastern University VLEs. This involves working closely with faculty members and with colleagues working in operations, both in the UK and the US.

The VLE Officer is expected to uphold the University's standards and service quality and to make contributions to the development of both.

Duties & Responsibilities

1. Handling day-to-day operations of the VLE, including content building and editing, the management of users, and the building of reports.

VLE Officer Job Description

2. First contact support for users of the VLE, using Zendesk, and responding to queries from students and staff, as well as liaising with colleagues from across the University.
3. Development of strong relationships with faculty and professional staff members.
4. Production of content using the VLE's native HTML content editor and the LaTeX equation editor.
5. Supporting student surveys and feeding back on student feedback on the VLE service provision.
6. Ensuring both high standards in all aspects of the VLE presentation and compliance with the University's accessibility policy.
7. Checking the accuracy and quality of the work produced by ourselves and by faculty members.
8. Awareness of and ensuring full compliance with copyright and data protection policies.
9. Running scheduled and one-time projects using standard project management tools.
10. Building and updating training materials and delivery of induction training and support for new colleagues and students on the VLE and other digital platforms in use.
11. All other duties commensurate with the level of responsibility of this post, for which the post holder has the necessary experience and/or training.

Person Specification (Essential/Desirable)

1. University degree and/or relevant work experience. [E]
2. Experience with the operation of a Virtual Learning Environment. [E]
3. Experience with the operation of the Canvas VLE. [D]
4. Understanding of data and copyright regulations. [E]
5. Experience with using project management tools. [D]
6. Confidence in leading on projects, liaising with faculty members, and working independently. [E]
7. High quality standards in production of texts, images and HTML. [E]
8. Confidence in communicating generally and in participating in planning and reporting meetings. [E]
9. Strong general software skills. [E]
10. Strong skills in the use of an HTML content editor, using Developer Tools, and authoring HTML directly. [E]

VLE Officer Job Description

11. An appreciation of pedagogical/andragogical principals and the use of the VLE to facilitate optimised educational outcomes. [D]
12. Friendliness and the capacity to both help colleagues and to learn from both colleagues at the University and from the wider networks of learning technology practitioners. [E]
13. Membership of Association for Learning Technology and/or the Learning Network. [D]

About the University

Founded in 2012, New College of the Humanities has the aim of providing the highest possible quality of education in the humanities and social sciences. We have established ourselves as a prestigious higher education institution overlooking the Thames in the heart of London. We offer a unique and broad liberal arts-inspired curriculum that boasts a highly personalised teaching practice. The University is now undergoing an exciting surge in growth, having become part of Northeastern University's global network in 2019.

Application Process

Applications should be made via this link by 23.59, 10th August 2022. Please reference your application VLE0722. Participation in the equal opportunities section of the form is encouraged but is voluntary.

Applications must include both a covering letter addressing point by point both the duties and personal specification, and a copy of your full curriculum vitae.

Applications are welcome from all sections of the community and will be judged on merit alone. Candidates must be able to demonstrate their eligibility to work in the UK in accordance with the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006.

If you have any questions regarding this role, please feel free to email Jed Keenan on jed.keenan@nchlondon.ac.uk